

Production Engineer Aggregates Romcim Ulmi Gravel Plant

Job assignment summary

Coordination and supervision of the production process of the aggregates according to the established quality and safety standards. Will work closely with the Aggregate Site Manager to ensure operational efficiency and meet production targets.

Responsibilities

- Supervises and coordinates the aggregate production process, ensuring that the required quality and quantity are met.
- Develops and implements strategies and procedures to optimize the production process and increase operational efficiency.
- Monitors and evaluates equipment and personnel performance to identify and correct deficiencies in a timely manner.
- Collaborates with the maintenance department to ensure proper operation of equipment and minimize downtime.
- Ensures compliance with occupational health and safety rules and regulations.
- Collects and analyzes production data for reporting to management and identifying opportunities for improvement.

Requirements

- Studies: bachelor's degree in engineering, preferably in the field of mechanical engineering
- Experience: minimum of 2-3 years (experience in aggregate is a plus)
- English: advanced